ELECTION RECORD BROKEN

Gubernatorial Fights Will Be Hard in Some States But in Others Merely Perfunctory.

The gubernatorial contests in some of the States are of a more than ordinarily interesting character.

In Connecticut the Democrats expect to elect the successor to Gov. John F. Shaffroth.

In Florida Gov. Albert W. Gilchrist will be succeeded by another Democrat.

The State election in Maine will be held Sept. 12.

Massachusetts, unless the unexpected happens, will elect Gov. Eben L. Draper, Republican.

New Hampshire is counted upon to elect another Republican to succeed Gov. Henry R. Quay.

Nothing has been decided definitely as to who shall lead the two tickets.

RAILWAY COMMISSION SETTLES OLD FIGHT

[By United Press.]
Madison, Aug. 12.—A fight between railroads which for months has kept the 800 lines Wisconsin Central division from an entrance to Duluth, has been settled. The state railroad commission today issued an order allowing the road to cross that part of Wisconsin necessary to reach the great model steel mills of the steel trust at West Duluth, on the Wisconsin line.

DID SNARE DRUMMER PROVE ENTICING TO PLATTEVILLE GIRLS?

Police Have Charge of Two Young Girls Who Left Home at Call of the Drum.

Don Uncle Tom's Cabin will lure young girls from home and a humble snare drummer, can be transformed into a "snare" for the same girls, especially if the young ladies happen to be tired of the hum drum life of a small town.

Clara Fritz, aged seventeen and Julia Aldo, one year younger, both of Platteville, were very much dazzled by the lure of the footlights, really it was a snare, when Uncle Tom's Cabin appeared under canvas in the making town last week. They also thought that John Johnson, which might be his name, a snare drummer, was also a very fine lad.

Julia Aldo's father is dead so she simply left home last Monday after notifying her mother that she was accompanying her friend, Clara Fritz, to Madison where the latter has two brothers. According to letters in their possession, written by the afore-said Johnson, they were to meet him at Madison next Sunday afternoon.

Both claim that the drummer did not entice them from home and that they came with the knowledge of their parents. They also say in a partially finished letter that they had to pawn their jewelry, which was indeed very romantic.

Evidently the Fritz brothers did not waste much time watching their sister, for after staying all last night in the St. Paul station at Madison, they took a train for Janesville, which may have been a freight from their appearance upon arriving here, and secured a room at the Park hotel. Both were without hats, coats and baggage, very much bedraggled so the police were called and took them in charge.

Their story as told at the police station was practically as given above and the two girls, although very young and with less than twenty cents in their possession, did not seem to be at all dismayed by their plight. The authorities immediately got in communication with the city marshal at Platteville for the purpose of ascertaining what would be best to do with the budding "Little Evans."

It is also possible that something may happen to the attractive snare drummer, John Johnson or Jackson, as he signs his name, as the same Uncle Tom's Cabin is due to show in Holst on Monday, Aug. 15.

DECREASE SHOWN IN CENSUS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN IN CITY

Figures for 1910 of Children Between Ages of Four and Twenty, 75 Less Than Last Year.

The number of children of school age in the city, those between the ages of four and twenty, has decreased seventy-five in number, according to the figures of the school census, just completed by Clerk S. C. Laramie. The total number of names secured in his canvass of the city is 4,002 as against 4,077 in 1909. It is not considered that the population of the city has lessened and thus caused a dropping off in number of the school census, but rather that the places of those who in a year have gone beyond the limit of school age, have not been filled by members of the rising generation who are old enough to attend school. A comparison of the figures for the two years is given below:

HAVE NO CLUES OF THE MISSING GIRL

Local Police Do Not Credit the Tale She is a White Slave Victim.

No evidence is being given by the local police to the belief of Rockford relatives of Helen Deegan, aged seventeen, that the girl, who disappeared June 26, is being held or has been persuaded to remain in this city against her will in a disorderly house. While it is thought that she was seen in the city last week, at that time she was alone. According to the authorities, if she persists in remaining away from home, it is for her own free will. Suspicion of a former involuntary resident by an anonymous communication which was as follows:
Your article noticed. Helen Deegan is in Janesville with a woman who abducted her. Her name is Clara Johnson, alias Bishop. They started for Chicago, June 25. She had no money. She got one dollar of a friend. This Johnson worked at the Chicago Cafe, East State Street, four weeks ago. She has been trying to get Helen to go away with her for some time. Helen is married to Frank Van Curen who works at the Majestic hotel room. They have separated. He had a letter yesterday from Janesville. Some man and the woman took Helen away. Tell the police. Phone the Janesville police.

EDGERTON PLANNING FOR THE CONFERENCE

Annual Methodist Church Gathering Will be Held in the Tobacco City This Year.

Edgerton, Aug. 12.—Edgerton is planning to entertain the annual Methodist conference on September 6th to 12th. There will be several hundred delegates including some two hundred ministers and an equal number of laymen from the churches of this conference.

The conference begins Tuesday evening, Sept. 6th and ends Monday, Sept. 12th. During these days speakers from various parts of the United States and some from foreign countries will address the gathering, either in the hotel or in a large tent. There will be men of wide reputation and their talks will be of the kind rarely heard in cities of our size.

As an extra number an address is being planned for Saturday evening, Sept. 10th, and Rev. G. K. Macmillan is casting about for the very best talent procurable. He has been in correspondence with such notables as W. Jennings Bryan, Senator Doolittle and ex-Governor Folk, but their time is engaged for that date. It is a safe prediction that the best speaker available will be secured. So it can be readily seen that during the conference Edgerton will be visited by men of national and state-wide reputation.

In cities where the conference is held it has always been customary to furnish free entertainment to the visiting clergymen, and as it may be years before we again secure a gathering of such notables, it stands us in mind to open wide the doors of our homes and bid them welcome during the week they are here. Let us provide all the spare rooms possible, add a tent or two to the table and make them our guests. It will not hurt us in the least and will do them a heap of good. When the conference is over and their departure taken, the news will spread far and wide that the citizens of Edgerton are a generous and hospitable people toward a cause for the good.

A WONDERFUL MONK.

Darwin, one of the most wonderful monkeys in existence, is one of the features of the circus here tomorrow. He is probably a chimpanzee, though his close resemblance in face and actions to the human lifts him into a class of his own. At the time of his capture Darwin was a little chattering baby of but a few weeks. The mother had to be killed before the circus trappers could get the baby.

When the big circus was showing in Madison Square Garden, in New York City, Darwin's head was examined by Joseph Allen Fowler, the celebrated physiologist. "I have examined the heads of many animals," Miss Fowler said, "but really I have never seen one that was so remarkable. Had Darwin been human, I am sure he would have been prominent as an actor, a financier or a philanthropist. 'Thought, meditation, concentration' are shown in every furrow. Here is no nervous haste, only deep, human-like thought, that seems more than anything else to indicate the birth of reason—the one gift that raises man from the level of the beast. Indeed Darwin is a most interesting study from a psychological point of view. On a study of his mental faculties one can realize how nearly he can pass for the missing link. He certainly is a bridge between the higher intelligence of man and the ordinary intelligence of an animal."

"I was surprised to find Darwin living contented and happy in a little house of his own, with windows, doors, a fireplace, chairs, tables and pictures on the wall. He knows how to turn on the electric lights, and he ate at a table, insisting on a full table equipment. He looks to be about four years old. He has a remarkable future ahead of him."

HARMONY IS SOUGHT AT MINERS' MEETING

His Reports are Greeted With Hoots and Hises—Secretary Perry Opposes President.

Indianapolis, Aug. 12.—The special convention of miners, called by President T. L. Lewis, today took up the controversy over the Illinois compromise agreement and early indications point to a bitter fight before the question is settled.

At the opening session President Lewis counseled harmony in a speech to the delegates. His report on the strike situation in the entire country brought hoots and hises, when he mentioned the recommendation to the Illinois strikers to pay all over 1 1/2 cents a ton of the cost of shut-downs.

Secretary Perry of the miners came out as an opponent of President Lewis and recommended that the convention make the Illinois strike the main issue of the international union to be fought until all the demands of the proposed Peoria agreement have been accepted by the operators. Perry, however, added Lewis' stand by pointing out that the international union had been forced to borrow $125,000 because of its bankrupt treasury. The bankruptcy, he said, was caused by the payment of $774,290 in strike benefits since April 1; of which Illinois got $37,000. He also attacked Lewis on the amount of money expended in organizers' salaries. He said $20,000 was paid them and he did not believe it right while so many thousands of families were suffering for food because their bread winners were on strike.

In his report President Lewis said that it would require $300,000 a week to pay benefits of three dollars a week to those on strike in the country. By the 25 cents a week assessment only $50,000 could be raised.

ALDRICH REPLIES TO BRISTOW.
Denies Charges Made Against Him by Kansas Senator.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, in a letter made public last night, denies the charges, in detail and in their entirety, made against him by Senator Joseph L. Bristow of Kansas in recent campaign speeches dealing with the tariff on rubber.

Incidentally he pays his respects in caustic language to Senator Bristow and what he terms a "little group of men" which entertain opinions similar to those of the Kansan.

The letter is addressed to William B. McKinley of Illinois, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, and was sent to the headquarters of the committee in this city. The explanation of the rubber duties and the denial of the charges made against him by Senator Bristow are based upon the fact that Senator Aldrich was called upon "by a Republican candidate for congress to furnish the facts connected with the changes made in the recent tariff act."

Referring to the charges made by Senator Bristow as "absurd misstatements," Senator Aldrich said the persistent repetition of them impelled him to make a full statement.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—When Augustus Hartje, the millionaire paper manufacturer, filed a bond of $100,000 as an assurance that he would pay his wife $5,000 annually, the most famous and sensational divorce case in Pittsburg's millionaire colony was closed to the public.

Mrs. Hartje is now living in seclusion and is seen but seldom at Pittsburg's social affairs.

Birds in Winter.
Though birds have a much higher temperature than man's—man's is 98, while theirs is 107—they suffer cruelly from the winter cold. In a mitten country it is not uncommon to find sheep with dead birds fastened on their backs. The little, cold creatures struggle in the sheep's wool to get warm, their feet become entangled in the fleeces, and they starve to death.

Oyster Shell Roman Roads.
Many people have wondered what becomes of oyster shells and oyster shells. The Roman settlers seem to have used them to advantage, for the streets of the ancient Verulamium, by St. Albans, which is to be further excavated, are paved with oyster shells, which seems to indicate good taste and economy on the part of our predecessors.—Westminster Gazette.

Care of Trees in Paris.
There are 55,810 trees in Paris, and each tree has lot number, age, history and condition recorded in the books at the Hotel de Ville. The appropriation for this department is 450,000 francs a year. The work could not be done for any such sum had it not been so thoroughly done in the beginning in the reign of Napoleon III.—Technical World Magazine.

MANY GOVERNORS WILL BE CHOSEN

In New Jersey, Gov. J. Franklin Fort, Republican, is not a candidate for re-nomination. There is said to be a feeling that the Democrats can win if they pick the right man. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, is prominently mentioned for the nomination.

The same feeling of uncertainty exists in regard to the successor of Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York. Though both parties will soon hold their nominating conventions it is impossible at present to foretell the choice of either for governor. The Republican party is badly split, while the Democrats are said to be more closely united than has been the case in many years.

The Democrats in North Dakota confidently expect to elect Gov. John Burke for a third term. Gov. Burke's opponent on the Republican side is C. A. Johnson, who is allied with the stalwart faction.

The contest in Ohio between Gov. Jackson Hiram, who is the Democratic candidate for reelection, and Warren Harding, whom the Republicans have just named after a bitter contest, will be watched with interest by the entire country, owing to the hearing which the result may have on the next presidential campaign.

The Democrats of Oklahoma expect to elect the successor to Gov. Charles H. Haskell. Their candidate is Lee Grace, a banker of Ardmore. Joseph O'Neal of Guthrie is the Republican nominee.

The nominations in Oregon will be settled at the September primaries. For the gubernatorial nominations on both tickets there are numerous aspirants.

The situation in Pennsylvania is interesting and the result is anxiously awaited. Congressman John K. Tener has been nominated for governor by the Republicans and Webster Grinn by the Democrats. In addition there is a strong third ticket in the field, nominated by the Keystone party, made up of Independents from both the older parties. The gubernatorial candidate of the Keystone party is William H. Berry, former State treasurer.

In Rhode Island the Republican and Democratic candidates have not yet been named. Several Democrats aspire to succeed Gov. Martin F. Angel of South Carolina, who will not be a candidate for reelection.

Governor R. S. Vosey, Republican, is a candidate for reelection in South Dakota and all indications point to his success. The Democratic candidate is Clarence L. Wood of Rapid City.

Gov. Malcolm R. Patterson, Democratic, has been renominated in Tennessee and will probably be successful, though he has many opponents within the ranks of his own party.

Oscar B. Colquhoun, Democrat, will succeed Gov. Thomas M. Campbell of Texas. J. O. Terrell of San Antonio is the Republican choice for governor. Vermont Republicans are confident of electing John A. Mead of Rutland, at present lieutenant governor, to succeed Gov. George H. Prouty. The Democratic nominee is Charles D. Watson of St. Albans. The election will take place Sept. 6.

The coming primaries will decide the gubernatorial nominations in Wisconsin. Adolph J. Schmitz of Milwaukee is the choice of the Democrats. For the Republican nomination there are five aspirants in the field. Wyoming will probably elect another Republican to succeed Gov. Bryant B. Brooks. Among those mentioned for the honor is former United States Senator J. M. Carey, father of the Carey land act. Senator Carey is allied with the so-called Independent faction of the Republican party in Wyoming.

To enable him to give that church a night service it will be necessary for the evening service here to be discontinued, which our people are loath to do. It would, however, have been comparatively an easy matter had the union Sunday evening services been continued.

ROOSEVELT IN TOUR OF FARMS.
Studies Practical Land Tilling and Produce Raising on Long Island.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Theodore Roosevelt gathered in a crop of ideas on practical farming in an all-day trip over farm lands of Long Island. He spent most of the day near Medford. Later he went to the region near Wading river and saw what is being done there along the same lines. Colonel Roosevelt made the trip to learn how the Long Island farmers are living and what is being done to raise produce and establish dairies near New York. Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island railroad, and H. B. Fullerton, a superintendent of experimental farms, accompanied him.

WANTED PAY FOR HIS WORK

British West Indian Who Wanted Remuneration for Building His Own House, Materials Furnished.

An English naval officer tells of being on a war vessel which took provisions to St. Kitt's, one of the British West India Islands. A hurricane had left many of the inhabitants in a destitute or even starving condition. Hungry crowds gathered at the wharf, but refused to help unload the food that was to be given to them unless paid for their work. A similar story sheds light on the Jamaican negro. Five or six years ago a hurricane devastated the island, and a large relief sum was raised, much of it in England and the United States. The committee having charge of this fund sent a wagon load of lumber to a husky black man whose house had been scattered over the parish. He and his family were living in a rude shack, made out of odds and ends.

"What's that fur?" he asked of the men who were unloading the material in front of his patch of ground. "That's for your new house," was the reply. "It's from the relief fund and won't cost you anything." "Who's goin' to build mah house?" "You are, if anybody does." "Who's goin' to pay me fur mah work?"

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

THE SHOWING off of a baby for the enjoyment of a visitor is almost a crime. A very bad practice at any time of the year, it is far worse in the summer, for it excites the little one beyond its capacity and tends to upset its entire nervous system.

"There are only two occasions for handling the little baby, and those are when it is to be fed and when its clothes are to be changed. Handling the little one for any other than necessary care is almost a crime."

"Anything at all that tends to fret or worry or excite the little one is most injurious to its health. The baby that is left severely alone, save necessary attention to keep it properly fed and clean, is the baby that is most apt to thrive and grow and be healthy."

"These are a few nuggets of wisdom from a babble's health bulletin sent out by a board of health in one of our large cities."

I commend them most heartily to my reader. In the middle there were also such admonitions as "Do not give little babies raw fruit." "Do not allow them to drink tea, coffee, beer or any other liquor," and several more advices along the same line.

I suppose—in fact know, from my slumming experiences—that there is a class of people who need this latter sort of suggestion.

But I have very decided doubts if it is as large as the class who need the other kind of advice—that is, to let their babies alone more.

"Don't take your baby out to visit the neighbors before it is six months old at least, and better, a year. The excitement of all those new faces and voices is very bad for his nervous system."

"Don't wheel a delicate baby about in his carriage. He is much better off quiet in his crib."

"Don't even undress a baby at night if he is weak or sick. It tires him too much."

"Don't put your sick or weak baby in the tub to bathe him. Just sponge him off in your lap. The tubbing takes too much vitality," are some more bits of advice along this same line that a prominent baby doctor gives all his mothers.

To this doctor a young mother came once, quite indignant—

"Why, that nurse you sent me doesn't pay any more attention to my boy than if he were a piece of furniture," she protested, aggrieved.

"Madam," answered the doctor, "if all babies were treated more like pieces of furniture and less like toys, there'd be twenty per cent fewer sick babies and fifty per cent less fuss and fussiness."

Yes, perhaps it is easier and pleasanter to pick the baby up when he fusses and on all similar occasions—doubtless it is more sensible to take him around to visit the neighbors and show him off to your visitors.

But that's not the question.

The question is, is it worth risking your baby's health and good disposition for?

WORKING FOR LOVE AND LOVING TO WORK

THE MARY HUSSELL. Working for the sake of the family is stimulating to a degree. Even though the work is distasteful, it has results, and the results are of importance.

A man or woman will work to the point of exhaustion with no thought of giving up, if there is some dear one dependent upon the efforts.

Such work is a grind often enough, but we see people doggedly plodding ahead at the disagreeable task.

trying to hold to strength and purpose all the day of rest, which enables them to once more shoulder the burden and go forward bravely.

Such work is praiseworthy. Such people are more partners than they dream—though they are prone to place the crown upon their heads.

They don the robe with a sense of complete self-sacrifice, but the real martyrdom lies in the thought that they are making a sacrifice.

Few of us get what we really desire of life. We may have to wash dishes when we would prefer to write sonnets—and we may have to write sonnets when we would gladly be washing dishes—with the chance that we would do the last named work the best.

We see men plodding away at their tasks far below their mental ability because they must earn sufficient wages for the need of the family. We see women behind counters who would thrive in the open and who drop in the close confinement of the shop girls' daily round.

We see round pegs in square holes and square pegs in round holes wherever we look.

It is a great pity that there should not be a bureau for the adjustment of these conditions, but since that is an Utopian dream, let us each try to improve conditions by trying to take an interest in the work we have to do, no matter how much we dislike it.

If we will put a little heart into it we will find some point of interest. If it is no more than to discover a method of scrubbing corners really clean instead of swirling a chunk of dirt into it and wetting it down to the floor.

A certain artistic satisfaction on dustless corners will help one to rise to something better, and if there is no hope of a position higher up it will at least put an intelligent interest into the more scrubbing of floors.

There is something interesting in any kind of work. Look for that in forest, for it is the very salt of the working man or woman's life.

The boy who comes home full of stories of the new place when he has found the long-sought "job" should be encouraged to talk of his work. Listen with interest even though you feel bored. It is all there is in life for him just now. It is the round of the ladder on which he hopes to climb to dizzy heights. You must help hold the ladder firm if you will but take an interest. So with the girl who our backs out a business career. Listen and try to help with the kind word, which bears no resemblance to the everlasting preaching that some parents think it is their duty and prerogative to deliver in season and out of season. Don't encourage carping criticism and fault-finding. Dismiss it as quickly as possible, but stimulate the interest. Put heart into whatever you do till the drudgery is pleasure, when each labors "for the joy of working," as well as for the money he needs for daily living.

INSOMNIA.

"Then there is ten minutes for sleep," Napoleon once said when he was informed that the enemy were still that far away. He was an intense worker, an intense thinker, largely because he was an intense sleeper. To attend strictly to business while one sleeps is as profitable as to attend strictly to business while one is awake. To be wide awake it is necessary to be deep asleep, part of the time. Some are asleep all the time and none of it. Many can't sleep because they don't work. I know a gentleman whose chief complaint is that "it is hard work for him to sleep." The foundation of his trouble is in the fact that "he doesn't need to work." For three years he has been at work trying to get well, and so far there is nothing else wrong with him. More women than men suffer in this way, chiefly because they are more likely to be out of a job—but the commonest cause of insomnia is long and close confinement in ill-ventilated rooms and lack of exercise in the open air, which develop an incapacity for the digestion of the conventional mixed and spiced meal.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, August 12, 1870.—Jottings.—Rev. Mr. Chapin of the Erie conference, who has for a short time past preached at the First M. E. church, has returned to his home in New York, in consequence of his departure and of the fact that camp meeting now in session at Des Moines, there will be no services at that church on Sunday school at 2 p. m. After next Sunday the pulpit will be regularly supplied.

Two of the residents of this city, A. M. Russell and C. E. Woodward, have been visiting near Abbeville, La., where they met with unusual success, killing in five days, 518 birds.

A number of vagabond boys entered the seminary buildings of Miss E. Serberner, on South Main street, last Sunday, and held possession until driven away by the neighbors.

The engine used for moving the work train, which is kept most of the day under the carriage bridge at Monterey, endangers the safety of many who have occasion to pass over the bridge with teams, as it is taken for granted that the engine will be in position to start at any moment, and often becomes unmanageable. The thanks of many, however, are due the men for climbing the bank, and assisting ladies driving alone.

We have received a letter from George W. Budd, formerly of this city, and now a captain in the regular army, who is stationed at Fort McKavett, Texas. Captain Budd was an officer in the 2d Wisconsin cavalry, and will be remembered by many.

A son of Mr. C. B. Kollogg, third ward, fell from a tree, a few days since, breaking both bones of his arm, below the elbow.

The water in Rock river is assuming a dark green hue.

An excellent choir is being organized for the new Methodist church, under the leadership of Mr. F. F. Ford. An organ is to be placed in the church as soon as the financial condition of the society will permit of the outlay.

MEMPHIS CAR COMPANY

MUST MAKE RESTITUTION

Decree Handed Down in Chancellor's Court Involves Former I. C. Officials in Conspiracy.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 12.—A decree was entered in Chancellor Heiskill's court which involved former Illinois Central railroad officials in a conspiracy by which the Memphis Car company is alleged to have defrauded the railroad out of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

By this decree every dollar's worth of property in the Memphis Car company's plant, and a sum in cash will be turned over to the Illinois Central railroad. Deeds were filed following the entering of the decree.

Prosecutions will immediately begin against a number of those former officials implicated.

It is known that the Illinois Central refused offers of large settlements, to include immunity, declaring that the road would rather lose the millions of which it had been defrauded than to have the officials who had been parties to the fraud escape punishment.

Two of the officials, it is set forth, have returned to the Illinois Central the amounts received by them as dividends. These are H. McCourt and W. S. King, each of whom made voluntary restitution of $12,000 in cash.

One of the stockholders is dead, Ira C. Hawn, formerly vice-president of the Illinois Central.

The other stockholders mentioned in the decree, besides E. H. Ward and H. C. Osterman were:

Frank B. Harriman, general manager of the Illinois Central.

Hugh McCourt, general superintendent.

W. S. King, general superintendent of the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley.

William Reishaw, superintendent of machinery.

Joseph E. Baker, assistant superintendent of machinery.

John W. Taylor, general storekeeper.

SALE AROUND WISCONSIN INTEREST

The lumbermen here at last released for settlement their vast tracts of rich Wisconsin land, a total of over 100,000 acres. The very best of this land, comprising 100,000 acres in the famous Round Lake Country, in Sawyer County, Wis., is now being put up in farms and sold at from $25.00 to $50.00 per acre on ten years' terms on which this rich land may be secured. The attention of the owner of high-priced land and the tenant farmer as well.

The American Immigration Company's great development plans are rapidly bearing fruit and new towns are being laid out, new railroads are coming, and settlers are busily building homes and getting the land under cultivation.

These lands are in the very heart of the state's richest dairy section. Clover grows in such abundance that this region is known as the great country for stock raising. The land is capable of producing big crops of grain, fruit and vegetables.

On much of this land there is enough timber to pay for it and furnish all the lumber for the necessary farm buildings. It is a country of abundant rainfall and the purest of water.

None out of every ten who visit the American Immigration Company's land and become purchasers. The company refunds railroad fare to purchasers.
